Three tourists killed as tree falls

No entry to KRS today, tomorrow

- Massive drive on to clear over 50 uprooted trees
- Hundreds of birds die due to high-velocity winds

Mysuru, May 2 (RK&BCT)- Tourist and visitor entry to the famed Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) dam has been banned today and tomorrow following the tragic death of three tourists, who were killed when a giant tree came crashing down on them at the Brindavan Gardens of the dam. The entry has been banned as the authorities have to clear more than 50 trees and branches that had crashed.

Heavy rain and high-velocity winds uprooted several trees last evening and the tourists were running helter-skelter to escape the showers. This is for the first time such an incident occurred in the KRS where three tourists died due to tree fall.

The incident occurred between the musical fountain and the boating pond area at 7.15 pm just about when the musical dancing fountain show was about to begin.

The victims have been identified as 35-year-old Vinod, Hilara and Rajashekhar. While Hilara and Vinod are from Kerala, Rajashekhar is from Tamil Nadu.

Initially, the rain that started as a drizzle picked up pace and it was a storm-like atmosphere. Running away from the musical fountain, the trio had taken shelter under a tree.

The rain and wind intensified and the tree under which the tourists were standing uprooted. Due to the impact, Vinod and Hilara died on the spot, while Rajashekhar died on the way to the hospital.

But officials at the KRS said that only one death occurred inside the dam premises while two died on the way to the hospital. Ten tourists who were also running were injured as the tree crashed on them.

KRS ill-equipped to handle emergency, says eyewitness

Mysuru, May 2 (PM&BCT)- An eyewitness to the tragedy at the Krishna Raja Sagar Dam where three tourists were killed last night as a giant tree fell on them has alleged that the authorities at the KRS were ill-equipped to handle emergency situation and there was not even a single ambulance there when the accident occurred.

Addressing a press conference at Pathrakarthara Bhavan in city this morning, Sabir Ahmed, a tourist from Mangaluru who was present at the KRS when the incident occurred said that the authorities were more interested in clearing the trees rather than rushing the injured to the hospital.

"The tree came crashing on the tourists Vinod, Hilara and Rajashekhar in front of my eyes. Due to the impact, Rajashekar was bleeding profusely from his head. His daughter, who was also injured, was pleading with the officials to take them to the hospital. The authorities did not even provide first aid," he said.

"When the incident occurred, we realised that the KRS, though collects lakhs as revenue, has no ambulance and a dedicated team to handle emergency situation. They had to wait till the Fire Services Department personnel arrived," he alleged.

Amidst reality and myth

Ancient philosophers of the land are quoted as saying: "Speak truth in such a way that it should be pleasing to others. Never speak truth, which is unpleasant to others. Never speak untruth, which might be pleasant. This is the path of eternal morality." A renowned scholar has further opined that even speaking truth that hurts others amounts to speaking untruth. The land is currently abuzz with political parties leaving no stone unturned to capture the mood of citizens heading to the polling booths seeking their choice of respective contestants to represent the people and then assume charge of the government. The ongoing scene in Karnataka leading to forming its next Legislative Assembly is being visualised to set the relative strengths of the political parties and their chosen leaders later this year and early next year as some more Assemblies of States as well as the nation's Parliament are to be formed democratically.

Citizens who are 18 years of age and above and included in the official list of voters are being exhorted to exercise their franchise as a duty and responsibility to raise their percentage in the total electorate. Given the fact that people at large have no opportunity or role in identifying their would-be representatives in the Legislative bodies, the provision of pressing the NOTA (None Of The Above) button on the EVM (Electronic Voting Machine) offers a negative role to the electorate. The ongoing free-for-all diatribe among the heavy weights of political parties finds the citizens between reality and myth, a puzzling game.

The arithmetic of democracy relating to the Legislative Assembly of Karnataka, stipulating that any one political party with 113 elected members can form the government is at the root of the cacophony that the dailies of all hues are filling their columns with catchy headings and graphic details. Every loquacious speaker of the leading political parties is virtually presenting to the public on a platter as it were the jaathaka (horoscope) of leaders of rival parties. It is for the voting public to accept the charges being mutually hurled as reality or myth. To say that their sullied track record falls into the region of reality and self-claimed good deeds (if any) falls into the region of falsehood is to be dubbed as naive.

Notwithstanding the vilification of the land's judiciary at the level of the Apex Court, the hundreds of cases in which a large number of vote-seekers figure as criminals, committing murder, fraud, rape, graft and so on do not offer to the people a great choice of candidates to be voted as their representatives. The NOTA button is the only hope in making a right choice between reality and myth of all that the dailies are printing.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

My father, a lawyer in Poonamallee, commanded respect from his clients, fellow lawyers and even strangers. The reasons could be his height, broad forehead and shoulders and benevolent aura. Towards the end of his life span, my father had high blood pressure. This was followed by severe constipation. Once, he went to consult Dr. Srinivasan, who had his clinic opposite Stella Maris College. After hearing my father's case history, the doc advised him to take enema, which was an embarrassing, humiliating and messy procedure to evacuate the bowels. When he said that hesitatingly, the doctor exploded, "Why do you say that? Even Rajaji takes it without fuss. Are you greater than him?" I was fuming with rage. I could not stomach such harsh words hurled at my father. No one had talked to him that way. Once we came out, I told him with moist eyes, "I hate him." He chided me. "He is an eminent physician, one of the best. Some give the bitter pill. Some sugar coated ones. The taste is momentary but not important. But the effect is." — *J .S. Great white shark spotted near Florida

Mexico: It's the first time researchers have seen Hilton in the Gulf of Mexico. A Twitter-famous shark turned up in a new location on Friday — near the Florida panhandle in the Gulf of Mexico. The shark, named Hilton by scientists, is a 12.5-foot, 1,326-pound great white that has been tracked by shark research organisation Ocearch since he was tagged in March 2017, according to the Pensacola News Journal. Though his size may sound impressive, he's not that big, relative to other great whites, according to conservation group Oceana. Hilton's tracker transmits a signal, or "ping," to researchers when Hilton's dorsal fin comes above the water surface. Hilton, named because he was caught and tagged near Hilton Head, South Carolina, "recently pinged in" from the Gulf of Mexico, Ocearch wrote in a Facebook post on Wednesday. The group hadn't tracked him to the Gulf previously. Heuter said Hilton is likely "doing a little fishing of his own" and "chowing down on the many fish of the canyon and shelf region there."

Ancient Egyptians lived on Red Planet !

London: Eagle-eyed ufologists scouring footage beamed back to Earth of the Red Planet claim there is further evidence of alien life. They say what appears to be a "female warrior wearing a helmet" has been sighted by the explorations rover.

Amateur astronomer Joe White, who spotted it, called it "a small feminine looking statue head which resembles a carved depiction of a female warrior wearing a helmet similar to some found on Earth from the middle ages." He also said it has "some very interesting facial features that look almost Egyptian in artistic style."But claims there is life on Mars is nothing new. Another so-called "truther" claimed he had uncovered evidence of a NASA alien cover-up just weeks ago. The YouTube user – calling himself Mars Alive – he had spotted underground bunkers hidden on Mars' rocky surface. Scoring through satellite images, he said: This looks like a large opening here, an entrance to underground on Mars, he says.

Introduce digital payment at Post Offices

Sir,

Post Office services are utilised by the customers by paying cash for services related to speed post, money orders and to other services through premium, domestic, and international services offered. Financial services, insurance services and philately related services are also availed by the customers upon cash payment at the counters.

Further it is also overwhelming to know regarding new ATM services for account holders availing financial services.

Of late, all the utility providers like banking services, railway ticket booking, bill payments for electricity, telephone, water supply and other basic services have been provided with an option to make payment through Point of Sale (PoS) terminals, to enable payment by swiping debit/credit cards across the counter. One wonders why the postal department is left behind in implementing such a beneficial digital initiative as a customer still has to make all the payments in cash across the counters in post offices.

Despite the postal department's robust infrastructure and technological improvements over the years, digital payment system through 'across the counter' at post offices is yet to be introduced. The shortage of exact tender change at times, across the counter is causing inconvenience to customers especially senior citizens. A digital payment option would help enable smooth flow of transaction and ensure quick delivery of service.

It is high time, the postal department takes necessary steps to introduce digital payment through PoS terminals across the counters at post offices. It should also commence the system of online payment for services which involve financial transactions like money order payments.

BSY accuses CM of dividing Veerashaiva-Lingayat Community

State BJP President and former CM B.S. Yeddyurappa canvassing for BJP candidates S.A. Ramdas (KR Constituency), Sandesh Swamy (NR) and L. Nagendra (Chamaraja).

Mysuru, May 2 (SBD&SPN)- State BJP President and former CM B.S. Yeddyurappa has accused Chief Minister Siddharamaiah of dividing Veerashaiva-Lingayat Community only for stopping him (BSY) from occupying the seat of Chief Minister.

Addressing a campaign rally for K.R. Constituency BJP candidate S.A. Ramdas at Gavi Mutt, Gowrishankarnagar here on Monday, Yeddyurappa alleged that Siddharamaiah can go to any extent to meet his selfish ends.

Reiterating that Siddharamaiah was out to divide the society on caste and communal lines, Yeddyurappa claimed that Siddharamaiah has now maintained silence on the issue fearing backlash in the elections.

Maintaining that there was a BJP wave across the State, the BJP leader expressed confidence that the party's 'Mission-150' will be achieved in the Assembly polls.

Asserting that Siddharamaiah will be the last Congress Chief Minister of the State, he appealed the electorate to elect BJP candidates S.A. Ramdas (KR), L. Nagendra (Chamaraja) and Sandesh Swamy (NR Constituency) with huge margins.

Yeddyurappa also addressed rallies in Chamaraja and NR Assembly segments of the city, during which he lashed out at Siddharamaiah Government, listing its failures and maladministration.

He appealed the voters to elect party candidates L. Nagendra (Chamaraja) and Sandesh Swamy (NR).

Earlier, Yeddyurappa held an impressive Road Show travelling atop an open vehicle in Gowrishankarnagar and other areas coming under KR Constituency. Party candidate S.A. Ramdas, MP Pratap Simha, KR Block BJP President B.V. Manjunath and others took part.

Many Congress leaders joined BJP on the occasion.

The BJP State President held Road Show at Hebbal and surrounding areas coming under Chamaraja Constituency. Party candidate L. Nagendra, MP Pratap Simha, Senior leader D. Madegowda and others accompanied the former CM.

Even as Yeddyurappa was addressing the gathering, it began to rain. But braving the rain, Yeddyurappa continued his speech holding umbrella. Even the crowd didn't seem to bother about the rain and listened to him.

Continuing his campaign in the city, Yeddyurappa after undertaking a door-to-door campaign at a few places in NR Constituency, addressed a massive gathering at N.R. Mohalla's Maruthi Circle.

Party candidate Sandesh Swamy, City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, Corporator Nandeesh Preetham, leaders K.P. Nanjundi, K. Shivaram, B.P. Manjunath, Renukaradhya and others were present.

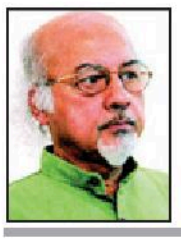
Hitler, Nehru & a worthless Bose



Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

When those who don't have it in them think they have it in them, it's sad. Chandra Kumar Bose was a qualified management expert who did well in the Tatas for many years. Then somebody told him that he was not just another Bose but Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's own grand-nephew. Worse, the BJP zeroed in on him, told him how Bengal was waiting for his guidance and leadership. As their nominee for the Chief Ministership of West Bengal, they fielded him against Mamata Bannerji in the 2016 elections.

Poor Chandra Kumar Babu. He got 26,299 votes, less than half of Mamata Bannerji's 65,520. Even those 26,299 were Hindutva votes, not Bose votes. But alas, those who don't have it in them don't see what others see. C.K. Bose came out last week with a denunciation of Jawaharlal Nehru that revealed many things about this Bose — his ignorance of the nuances of history, his lack of a sense of balance, his immaturity as a public interlocutor and, frankly, his political rawness.

Just see what the man said: "Hitler never betrayed his nation. Nehru wanted to sit on the throne without fighting, but sucking up to the British. In short, Nehru betrayed his nation." Somebody must have told him about the stupidity of his words, so he came up with another statement. "I am not supporting Hitler — of course he was a devil — but he was not fraudulent like Nehru who in the guise of being a nationalist was actually a British lackey."

Perhaps this undeserving Bose was aware of the BJP's aversion to Nehru and was trying to please his masters. There are schools in Rajasthan where history texts do not mention that Nehru was the first Prime Minister of India or that Gandhi was shot dead by Godse. Bose figured that such an iron-hard line would make his stock go up with the BJP; may be PM candidate next time, who knows? So Nehru is put in the same bracket as Hitler — bold even by Hindutva standards.

Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose would do nothing of the kind. The differences of opinion between Netaji on the one hand and Gandhi, Nehru, Patel on the other are well known. Yet, Netaji did not denounce Congress leaders. There are strong reasons to believe that he did not die in an aircrash as Japan claimed and that he eventually returned to India, living as Gumnami Baba in Faizabad where he died in 1985. This is still a raging controversy, but no one denies the fact that the Baba's belongings, examined after his death, contained several photographs of Netaji's parents and immediate family, telegrams from trusted veterans of the Azad Hind Fauz and various personal belongings. A small move by such a man to attack Nehru as a betrayer would have changed the course of Indian history. But he was a true patriot who put the country above him. Sometimes grand nephews have difficulty comprehending such things.

As irony would have it, Chandra Kumar Bose's worthless views on Jawaharlal Nehru were exposed for what they were by not a Congressman or Indian historian or intellectual but by a Pakistani. Pervez Hoodbhoy, a Physics Professor in Pakistan, wasn't replying to Bose, too inconsequential to be noticed from that distance. He was merely analysing an aspect of the India-Pakistan situation from an academic point of view. Writing last week in the venerable daily, Dawn, the Professor wondered:

"What might have today's India looked like in scientific terms if Narendra Modi, not Jawaharlal Nehru, had been India's Prime Minister in 1947? Instead of being noted for its exceptional space programme, and brilliant string theorists, India would have become a garbage dump for every kind of crackpot science... As in Pakistan, Darwinian evolution would be considered heretical and destructive of religious faith." — Pervez Hoodbhoy, Physics Professor in Pakistan.

Instead of being noted for its exceptional space programme, and brilliant string theorists, India would have become a garbage dump for every kind of crackpot science... As in Pakistan, Darwinian evolution would be considered heretical and destructive of religious faith."

Recalling a speaking tour of India in 2005, Hoodbhoy wrote: "Without Nehru there could never have been the huge and palpable mass enthusiasm for science, manifested in many science museums within a single city... Nehru must also be credited with keeping a lid on his Generals. Immediately after partition, Nehru ordered the grand residence of the Army Chief to be vacated and instead assigned it to the Prime Minister. The move carried huge symbolism... It is nowadays becoming easier by the day for Pakistan to recognise its mirror reflection across the border."

Chandra Kumar Bose is unlikely to see the point. Naturally. Those who don't have it in them don't have it in them.

In this week's Pet Talk,
Maneka explains about the problems & diseases of dogs, cats and birds and solutions to them

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

How to keep your pet safe during festival season?

Fireworks and crackers during festivals can have severe impact on pets, and special attention is required to minimise that impact. The following are a few tips to keep your pet safe during the festive season:

• Be sure to take your dog out for a walk before the fireworks and other celebrations begin. For cat owners, make sure you call them in before the fireworks start.

• Don't tie your dogs outside, or leave them in the garden or car during fireworks. Always keep your pets inside when fireworks are being let off.

• Check that all windows, curtains, doors and cat flaps are closed throughout the night.

• It is a good idea to play music, or have the television on to help mask the sounds.

• If your pets are pacing around, meowing, barking, whining or hiding in a corner, let them. They're just trying to find a safe place. If they're hiding under your bed, or in a corner, don't try coaxing them out, instead, act normal and relaxed. However, if a stoke or cuddle helps your pet to relax then it is okay to do that. Just always stay calm and praise calm behaviour, not fearfulness.

• Try not to leave your pets alone on such frightening nights. However, if you do go out, close all curtains and leave either the radio or the TV on to dull the noise of the fireworks. If, when you arrive home, your pets have been destructive, or had an accident, don't get angry. This will only add to their anxiety and besides, it's not their fault they're scared!

• Please don't take your dogs to firework displays. Although some may not seem frightened, excessive panting and yawning can both be signals of your dog being stressed. Also, remember your dog's hearing is much more acute than yours, so the loud bangs and whistles can be painful for your dog's ears.

• If your cats are scared, don't restrain them. Cats prefer to control how they cope, so let them hide, as this will be where they feel safest.

What kind of diseases can pigeons get?

Common medical problems in pigeons are as follows:

Trichomonas: Very common. Signs: Head-shaking and yellow plaque in the mouth, or the bird may have trouble breathing.

Upper respiratory infections: Various bacterial and viral causes. Signs: Sneezing, nasal discharge on the shoulders where the birds wipes their nares (nostrils).

Chlamydia: Redness or discharge from one or both eyes, or upper respiratory symptoms. Contagious to humans. Report all suspected cases to a veterinarian.

Coccidia: Weight loss, lack of appetite, diarrhoea. Most pigeons have coccidia present in the gastrointestinal tract, and it may cause disease in young or stressed birds.

Diarrhoea: May be due to E.coli, Salmonella (paratyphoid), parasites, viruses.

Paramyxovirus: Watery droppings, loss of coordination, twisted neck.

Poxvirus: Whitish or yellow bumps on head, feet or legs. Spread by mosquitoes.

What to do if your dog dies at home?

If you have enough space for a burial in your garden, or in a public space, dig a pit 4 feet deep, put the dog in without putting salt, cover it and then plant a tree on top. This would be the best way. Or, you can take it to your nearest animal shelter where they might provide burial services.

What to do if your dog injures a toenail?

With a clean cloth or square gauze, apply pressure to the nail for about five minutes. If the bleeding doesn't stop, wrap your dog's paw and take him to the vet. Any sign of swelling in the paw indicates infection, and your dog needs veterinary attention. When your dog is in pain, bring him to the vet. Your vet can sedate your pet, remove the torn nail and bandage it properly. The vet might prescribe antibiotics or forestall infection, as well as pain medication. Should an infection reach the bone, your dog's toe might require amputation.

What is the right way to clean your dog's ear?

Just like with human ears, you never want to use cotton swabs because they can hurt your dog's ears. Instead, have a bag of cotton balls ready, or wrap your finger in gauze and use it. You might want to use gloves for the cleaning, but it's also okay to just wash your hands if no gloves are available. Perhaps the most important tool, though, is the ear rinse. Look for a product which contains no antibiotics, steroids, alcohol, or toxic materials of any kind. To clean your dog's ears without causing harm, start on the outside and work your way in — but only until you start to feel resistance. If you try to push further in, you can damage your dog's ear. Wet a cotton ball with ear rinse and wipe the part of the ear that you can easily see, the outer flap.

Then wet a new cotton ball to clean the inner ear. Ideally, do this about once a week. If the cotton balls or gauze are especially dirty, think about scheduling an appointment with your dog's vet to make sure everything is okay.

Two green Anacondas arrive at Mysuru Zoo

Received from Sri Lanka Zoo under Animal Exchange Programme

Mysuru, May 2 (NNN)- Two Green Anacondas (out of six) arrived at Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens (Mysuru Zoo) from Sri Lanka Zoo under the animal exchange programme.

The male and the female Anacondas, which arrived from Sri Lanka National Zoo by Sri Lankan Airlines at Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru, on Apr. 28, were received by the Zoo Veterinarian and animal keeper, who safely transported them by road from Bengaluru to Mysuru. At present they have been kept in quarantine enclosure in the city zoo.

Each Anaconda is aged about four years and eight months, weighs up to 15 kgs and is about six to eight feet in length. It may be recalled that in 2011, Mysuru Zoo received five Green Anacondas from the same Zoo.

After a gap of nearly seven years the Mysuru Zoo is receiving six anacondas (three males and three females) which have been approved by the Central Zoo Authority (CZA) of India.

Executive Director of Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens C. Ravishankar said, "We have received the two anacondas. The remaining four anacondas will arrive shortly. In exchange, Mysuru Zoo is giving two pairs of Black Bucks and two pairs of Nilgai to Sri Lankan Zoo."

According to Ravishankar, the Mysuru Zoo has added various species of animals and birds to its collection since the last two months to pair single animal and to enrich approved animal collection plan.

The following are the animals and birds received. No entry to KRS today, tomorrow

The signboards that were blown off due to high velocity wind at KRS yesterday. Picture right shows workers clearing tree branches near the boating pond today.

According to tourists, the show had just begun when it started to rain. In no time, the heavy wind started to blow. While some among the tourists started to run helter-skelter, some took shelter under a shelter attached to a toilet. However, trees fell on about 10 leaving them severely injured.

Rajashekar's two children — Sashika, aged 10 years and four-year-old son — who suffered head injuries were admitted to a private hospital in city. They were, however, discharged from the hospital as they had to take Rajashekar's body home for cremation.

KRS PLUNGES INTO DARKNESS

Officials from Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited, Police and Forest Department said that over 15 vehicles were damaged as over 50 trees fell on them. Yesterday was a public holiday on account of May Day and as such over 9,000 tourists had come to KRS.

As night fell and the rain eased, officials had a tough time in clearing the trees and branches that had scattered on the road. Long traffic jams were witnessed both inside and outside the KRS and to make matters worse, the entire KRS Dam was plunged into darkness as power lines were snapped off as trees fell.

Officials made alternative arrangements for the tourists whose vehicles were badly damaged. Local buses and tempo travellers were booked for them to reach home.

ELECTRIC POLE FALLS ON BUS

Over 80 passengers travelling in a KSRTC bus had a miraculous escape after an electricity pole fell on the vehicle on Holalu Road near Mandya last night. A major tragedy was averted since there was no power supply.

A huge tree fell on an electric cable bringing down 38 electricity poles following high-velocity winds. An electricity pole slowly leaned on the bus even as it entered Holalu Road. The passengers screamed fearing that they would suffer electric shock but heaved a sigh of relief after coming to know that there was no power supply. They later took private vans and autos to reach their destination.

BIRDS DIE

Over 300 birds have died at KRS yesterday due to gusty wind and tree fall. Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Dr. Ajay Kumar Jain of Pragathi Prathistana said that hundreds of birds were injured and efforts were on to rescue them. The injured birds will be given first aid and will be taken to PFA (People For Animals) shelters for further treatment and rehabilitation. So far 64 birds have been rescued.

MASSIVE CLEARING OPERATION

A day after the tragedy, officials from the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam, Police and Forest Department initiated a massive clearing operation at the Dam site this morning where trees and branches are lying on the pathway. As the tourist entry into the dam will hamper cleaning operations, the entry of visitors has been banned till tomorrow, officials said.

Dead and weak trees will be felled in the operation and dry branches close to human activity area will be pruned, they added.

KRS ill-equipped to handle emergency, says eyewitness

"Women and children were crying and the men were confused as they had nowhere to go and did not know whom to approach. The authorities reached the accident spot late though there was an emergency," he said.

Litterateur Bannur K. Raju, who was also present at the press conference, said that the KRS authorities must pay a minimum compensation of Rs. 20 lakh to the families of the victims. "If you see the ticket entry rates, the KRS Dam collects crores of rupees as income per month and the revenues peak every weekend. Despite this, there is no emergency-handling equipment," he said.

PM's Santhemarahalli rally was a huge success: State BJP In-charge K. Muralidhar Rao

Muralidhar Rao

Mysuru, May 2 (MTY&DM)- Asserting that Prime Minister Narendra Modi's rally at Santhemarahalli in Chamarajanagar Taluk yesterday was a huge success, State BJP In-charge K. Muralidhar Rao has maintained that with Modi's campaign, the BJP is gaining ground in old Mysuru region where hitherto the party did not have a strong base. He was addressing a press meet at a private hotel here this morning.

Terming State BJP Chief and Chief Ministerial candidate B.S. Yeddyurappa as a true farmer leader, Muralidhar Rao said that addressing agrarian issues, urban planning and infrastructure development, law and order issues etc., will be the highlights of the party's election manifesto, which will be released in a couple of days.

Pointing out that Union Ministers including Nitin Gadkari and Rajnath Singh and Chief Ministers of all BJP ruled States will be canvassing for the party in Karnataka, he said that the party has planned at least two public rallies in each of the 224 Assembly segments of the State.

Referring to Varuna Constituency from where CM Siddharamaiah's son Dr. Yathindra is contesting as the Congress candidate, he said that the BJP has taken the Constituency seriously and BJP National President Amit Shah and other top leaders will campaign there.

Replying to a question on mining baron G. Janardhana Reddy campaigning for BJP, Rao said that the BJP does not have any connection with Janardhana Reddy and that Reddy may be campaigning for B. Sriramulu in his (Reddy) personal capacity and not as a party leader.

He further said that G. Somashekar Reddy and G. Karunakar Reddy have been given party tickets because they were both former MLAs and had worked tirelessly for organising the party from grassroot level.

Launching a scathing attack on the Congress Government, Rao said that the people were frustrated with Congress' misrule.

Stating that Congress and JD(S) were two faces of the same coin, he ruled out the possibility of a hung Assembly and said the BJP was getting closer to achieve its mission-150.

Replying to Siddharamaiah's charges that Amit Shah and State JD(S) Chief H.D. Kumaraswamy took the same flight to Delhi to reach a tacit understanding, Rao termed the CM's charge as baseless as the CM was simply making the charge without any documentary proof.

City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, District President Kote M. Shivanna, leaders M.V. Ravishankar, Tejaswini Ramesh and others were present at the press meet.

PM Modi's final push ahead of Assembly polls

Says it is a BJP storm in Karnataka; tears into Congress President Rahul Gandhi and CM Siddharamaiah

PM Narendra Modi addressing a public rally at Chamarajanagar yesterday.

Chamarajanagar/Udupi, May 2 - In the final push ahead of the May 12 Assembly Elections, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said that there is a BJP storm in Karnataka.

Speaking at Santhemarahalli in Chamarajanagar yesterday, Modi said, there is a 'BJP storm' and not a 'BJP wave' in Karnataka. He began his 45-minute campaign speech in Kannada and went on to slam Congress President Rahul Gandhi for disrespecting the National Song - Vande Mataram.

Rahul Gandhi had at a rally in Bantwal signalled to Congress leader K.C. Venugopal to wrap up the proceedings. A person then informed the singer to cut short the National Song, thereby disrespecting Vande Mataram. "Congress leaders do not know about national history, don't respect Vande Mataram," hit out PM Modi.

15-MINUTE CHALLENGE: Stressing on a Kaamdaar versus Naamdaar (worker vs. dynast) narrative on May Day to counter the Congress, Modi challenged Rahul Gandhi's oratory skills. "Without a paper in hand, can you talk about the achievements of your government in Karnataka for 15 minutes? You may speak in a language you please- English, Hindi or your maternal family's mother tongue," Modi mocked Rahul Gandhi.

Stating that dynastic politics has destroyed the nation and democracy, Modi went on to accuse the Siddharamaiah Government of corruption by stating, "It is the reason for destruction of Karnataka politics. The State Government, its Ministers and their followers are all complicit in some corruption cases. The people of Karnataka know that the 10% commission has destroyed the democracy."

He added, "Wherever there is Congress, crime, corruption and dynastic politics are there and development goes for a toss. The same happened in Karnataka.

There is no water in this region, no employment."

CHAMUNDESHWARI AND BADAMI: Taking on Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, PM Modi accused the Congress of following the "2+1 formula in Karnataka" – a dig at the dynastic politics of the ruling party in the State. He took a dig at Siddharamaiah for choosing to vacate his Varuna seat for his son Dr. Yathindra, while contesting at two places – Chamundeshwari and Badami.

"This is the political innovation of the CM, who is generally sleeping. The CM is running away from constituencies fearing defeat. Now he is standing in two constituencies and is now asking his son to fight from the seat where his own defeat was certain. He wants to win at least one seat out of three so that family tradition continues," Modi lashed out.

In Udupi, Modi furthered the BJP's carefully built narrative of the Siddharamaiah Government being "anti-Hindu". "Violence cannot exist in a democracy. It is shameful how BJP workers were murdered in Karnataka," he said. He added that while his government at the Centre was talking about "ease of doing business," the Congress believed in "ease of doing murder."

FLAG OF FRIENDSHIP AT JD(S): In what could be BJP's attempts at waving a flag of friendship at JD(S) -- a party that could very well have a say in who forms the next government if predictions of a hung assembly are anything to go by — Modi chided Rahul Gandhi and the Congress for "disrespecting" JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda.

"Is this your sanskar (culture)? Is this the way you treat your elders?" Modi said. The PM tried to connect with the local sentiment of the population and said while Deve Gowda may be an Opposition Leader, as a former Prime Minister he always deserves due respect.

He said Deve Gowda has a staunch BJP critic, but he (PM Modi) has always shown him respect whenever they meet in Delhi. "He is our critic. In parliament his party votes against us. We may have difference of opinions but I can never ever think of being discourteous to him. Whenever he (Deve Gowda) comes to meet me in Delhi, I receive him and even open the car's doors for him as he is elder and a senior leader of the country," Modi said.

TARGET SIDDHARAMAIAH: Addressing the gathering earlier, Yeddyurappa slammed Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and the Congress manifesto for promising to give more power to the Lokayukta.

"Siddharamaiah, you say now that you will bring back the Lokayukta if you are re-elected. What were you doing these past five years? Grazing donkeys?" Yeddyurappa lashed out against Siddharamaiah.

He also hit out at Siddharamaiah for calling BJP's star campaigners – the PM and Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath as outsiders. "Siddharamaiah says that UP CM Yogi Adityanath is an outsider and that PM Narendra Modi is an outsider. Then is Rahul Gandhi his nephew? Is Sonia Gandhi his sister-in-law?" asked Yeddyurappa.

Chamundeshwari BJP candidate denies rumours of tacit understanding with JD(S)

Mysuru, May 2(MTY&DM)- Rejecting rumours of a tacit understanding with JD(S), Chamundeshwari BJP candidate S.R. Gopal Rao has said that he is working hard to ensure his victory in the Constituency, from where Chief Minister Siddharamaiah is contesting as the Congress candidate.

Addressing a press meet here on Monday, he said that the BJP being a national party need not have an understanding with a regional party like the JD(S) and that the BJP has given him the ticket as he is an able candidate.

Pointing out that he is a loyal party worker, he said that top BJP leaders will campaign for him shortly.

Gopal Rao

Replying to a question on how he can win from this high profile constituency, when he (Rao) has failed to win even Gram Panchayat elections from here, he said that the Assembly poll is a different game from GP polls. He cited the example of Pratap Simha getting elected as an MP, contesting for the first time. Corporator M.K. Shankar, leaders Arun Kumar Gowda, Jagadish Gowda, Rajkumar and others were present.

"Ramdas has no role in ticket denial to me," says Vijayendra

B.Y. Vijayendra seen with S.A. Ramdas.

Attempt to defame Ramdas by opposition decried

Mysuru, May 2 - B.Y. Vijayendra, the son of former Chief Minster B.S. Yeddyurappa has clarified that former Minister and present BJP candidate for Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency S.A. Ramdas has no role to play in the BJP denying ticket to him (Vijayendra) from Varuna. He has said that some vested interests are spreading false messages in social media and people must not believe such rumours.

Vijayendra, who is now the BJP Yuva Morcha State General Secretary, has released a video in this regard where he has stated that Ramdas was an honest party worker and will never work against the party's interests. "Ramdas has no role to play in this and further, I don't want to blame anyone and no one is responsible for this," he said.

"The Congress party is indulging in dirty politics by floating rumours about Ramdas. I appeal to the voters of Krishnaraja to support Ramdas as he can strengthen the hands of Yeddyurappa who has to complete another term as CM," Vijayendra said.

Going a step further, Vijayendra has said that insulting Ramdas was like insulting Yeddyurappa. "There is a conspiracy by Congress party to defame Ramdas and they are trying to shift voters in their candidate's favour. Some anti-Yeddyurappa groups are also involved in this. I appeal to the voters not to heed to such propaganda and to vote for Ramdas," he said.
